

I'm still trying to figure out exactly why I named this series Beauty and the Brood. Perhaps, it has something to do with the beautiful saturated colors juxtaposed with the dark, brooding clouds. Maybe the contrast in my landscape photographs mirrors my/our human emotional landscape.